Rules for Computing Interest

The following will be found to be excellent rules for finding the interest on any principal for any number of days. When the principal contains cents, point off four places from the right of the result to express the interest in dollars and cents. When the principal contains dollars only, point off two places.

Four per Cent.—Multiply the principal by the number of days to run, and divide by 90.

Five per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 72.

Six per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 60.

Seven per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 52.

Eight per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 45.

Nine per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 40.

Ten per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 36.

Twelve per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 30.

Fifteen per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 24.

Eighteen per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 20.

Twenty per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 18.

Twenty-four per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 15.

The Metric System

The Metric System of Weights and Measures has been legalized by act of Congress, July 28, 1866.

METRIC WEIGHTS.—10 milligrams make 1 centigram, 10 centigrams 1 decigram, 10 decigrams 1 gram, 10 grams 1 dekagram, 10 dekagrams 1 hektogram, 10 hektograms 1 kilogram, 1,000 kilograms 1 metric ton.

METRIC MEASURES.—(One milliliter equals cubic centimetre) 10 milliliters make 1 centiliter, 10 centiliters 1 deciliter, 10 deciliters 1 liter, 10 liters 1 dekaliter, 10 dekaliters 1 hektoliter, 10 hektoliters 1 kiloliter.

METRIC LENGTHS.—10 millimeters make 1 centimeter, 10 centimeters 1 decimeter, 10 decimeters 1 meter, 10 meters 1 decameter, 10 decameters 1 hektometer, 10 hektometers 1 kilometer.

APPROXIMATE EQUIVALENTS.

A meter is about 1 yard; a kilo is about 2 pounds; a liter is about a quart; a centimeter is about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch; a metric ton is about same as an ordinary ton; a kilometer is about $\frac{1}{4}$ mile; a cubic centimeter is about a thimbleful. A nickel five-cent piece of our coinage is a handy key to metric measures and weights. It is two centimeters in diameter and weighs five grams.

PRECISE EQUIVALENTS.

1 acre equals .4047 hectare; 1 bushel, 35.24 liters; 1 centimeter, .3937 inch; 1 cubic centimeter, .0610 cubic inch; 1 cubic foot, .0283 cubic meter; 1 cubic inch, 16.35 cubic cent.; 1 cubic meter, 35.31 cubic feet; 1 cubic meter, 1.308 cubic yards; 1 cubic yard, .7645 cubic meter; 1 foot, 30.48 centimeters; 1 gallon, 3.785 liters; 1 grain, .0648 gram; 1 gram, 15.43 grains; 1 hectare, 2.471 acres; 1 inch, 25.4 millimeters; 1 kilogram, 2.20 pounds; 1 kilometer, .6214 mile; 1 liter, .0081 quart (dry); 1 liter, 1.057 quart (liquid); 1 meter, 3.281 feet; 1 mile, 1.609 kilometers; 1 millimeter, .0394 in.; 1 ounce (avdp.), .02855 grams; 1 ounce (Troy), .0365 grams; 1 peck, 8.860 liters; 1 pint, .4732 liter; 1 pound, .4536 kilogram; 1 quart (dry), 1.062 liters; 1 quart (liquid), .961 liter; 1 sq. centimeter, .155 sq. inch; 1 sq. foot, .0929 sq. meter; 1 sq. inch, 6.459 sq. cent.; 1 sq. meter, 1.195 sq. yards; 1 sq. meter, .1076 sq. feet; 1 sq. yard, .8307 sq. meter; 1 ton (2,000 lbs.), .9072 metric ton; 1 ton (2,240 lbs.), 1.017 metric ton; 1 ton (metric), 1.105 ton (2,000 lbs.); 1 ton (metric), 9.849 ton (8,240 lbs.); 1 yard, .9144 meter.

Weather Signals

■ NO. 1. Fair Weather. ■ NO. 2. Rain or Snow. ■ NO. 3. Local Rain or Snow. ■ NO. 4. Temperature. ■ NO. 5. Cold Wave.

No. 1, alone, indicates fair weather, stationary temperature.

No. 2, alone, indicates rain or snow, stationary temperature.

No. 3, alone, indicates local rain or snow, stationary temperature.

No. 4, alone, indicates temperature, stationary temperature.

No. 1, with No. 4 above it, indicates fair weather, warmer.

No. 1, with No. 4 below it, indicates fair weather, colder.

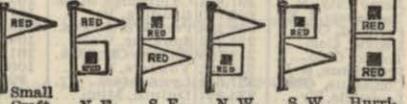

No. 2, with No. 4 above it, indicates rain or snow, warmer.

No. 2, with No. 4 below it, indicates rain or snow, colder.

No. 3, with No. 4 above it, indicates local rain or snow, warmer.

No. 3, with No. 4 below it, indicates local rain or snow, colder.

SMALL CRAFT, STORM AND HURRICANE WARNINGS.

Small Craft Warning.—A red pennant indicates that moderately strong winds are expected.

Storm Warnings.—A red flag with a black center indicates a storm of marked violence. The pennants displayed with flags indicate direction of wind—red, easterly; white, westerly; pennant above flag indicates wind from northerly quadrants; below, from southerly quadrants. By night a red light indicates easterly winds, white light below red, westerly winds. Two red flags with black centers indicate approach of tropical hurricanes. No night small craft or hurricane signals are displayed.

Nov. 11. Armistice Day. Signing of Armistice in World War.

Help in Case of Accidents

BURNS AND SCALDS.—Cover with cooking soda and lay wet cloths over it. Whites of eggs and olive oil. Olive oil or linseed oil, plain, or mixed with chalk or whiting. Sweet or olive oil, or lime-water. Shock, which is always present in severe burns, requires the administration of stimulants. Pain is more constant and intense in burns than in any other form of injury, and requires sedatives, which should be administered by the medical attendant. Later on the appearances of inflammation and other complications are to be carefully watched for.

SUFFOCATION FROM INHALING ILLUMINATING GAS.—Get into the fresh air as soon as possible and lie down. Keep warm. Take ammonia—ten drops to a tumbler of water, at frequent intervals; also, two or four drops tincture of nux vomica every hour or two for five or six hours.

TESTS OF DEATH.—Hold mirror to mouth. If living, moisture will gather. Push pin into flesh. If dead, the hole will remain; if alive, it will close up. Place fingers in front of a strong light. If alive, they will appear red; if dead, black or dark.

MAD DOG OR SNAKE-BITE.—Tie cord tight above wound. Suck the wound and cauterize with caustic or white-hot iron at once, or cut out adjoining parts with a sharp knife. Give stimulants, as whisky, brandy, etc.

FIRE IN ONE'S CLOTHING.—Don't run—especially not downstairs or out-of-doors. Roll on carpet, or wrap in woolen rug or blanket. Keep the head down, so as not to inhale flame.

FIRE FROM KEROSENE.—Don't use water, it will spread the flames. Dirt, sand, or flour is the best extinguisher, or smother with woolen rug, table-cloth, or carpet.

CINDERS IN THE EYE.—Roll soft paper up like a lamp lighter, and wet the tip to remove, or use a medicine dropper to draw it out. Rub the other eye.

Fainting.—Place flat on back; allow fresh air, and sprinkle with water. Place head lower than rest of body.

STINGS OF VENOMOUS INSECTS, ETC.—Apply weak ammonia, oil, salt water, or iodine.

LIGHTNING.—Dash cold water over a person struck.

Help in Case of Accidents

DROWNING.—1. Loosen clothing, if any. 2. Empty lungs of water by laying body on its stomach, and lifting it by the middle so that the head hangs down. Jerk the body a few times. 3. Pull tongue forward, using handkerchief, or pin with string, if necessary. 4. Initiate motion of respiration by gently compressing and expanding the lower ribs, about twenty times a minute. Alternately raising and lowering the arms from the sides up above the head will stimulate the action of the lungs. Let it be done gently but persistently. 5. Apply warmth and friction to extremities. 6. By holding tongue forward, closing the nostrils, and pressing the "Adam's apple" back (so as to close entrance to stomach), direct inflation may be tried. Take a deep breath and breathe it forcibly into the mouth of patient, compress the chest to expel the air, and repeat the operation. 7. DON'T GIVE UP! People have been saved after HOURS of patient, vigorous effort. 8. When breathing begins, get patient into a warm bed, give WARM drinks, or stimulants in teaspoonfuls, fresh air, and quiet.

SUNSTROKE.—There are two important indications for treatment—reduction of temperature and the use of stimulants. The patient should first be removed to a cooler spot if possible, or, at least when shade is not available, the treatment should be given at once. The clothing about the neck and body must be either loosened or removed. Cold is particularly indicated in cases where there is great heat of the body, and delirium and convulsive movements are present. This means of reducing the temperature may be applied in the shape of cracked ice about the head and spine, or the use of cold water. If the heat of the body is very great, it may be necessary to wrap the patient in sheets wet with cold water. If there is, besides the great heat, evidence of serious depression, stimulants must be used while the cold is being applied.

HEMORRHAGE.—The usual treatment is rest in the recumbent position; small pieces of ice should be freely swallowed, and the application of ice wrapped in a towel or in an ice-bag, or snow, cold water, etc., over the stomach; hot applications may be applied to the extremities.

FIRE IN A BUILDING.—Crawl on the floor. The clearest air is the lowest in the room. Cover head with woolen wrap, wet if possible. Cut holes for the eyes. Don't get excited.

Poisons and Antidotes

FIRST.—Send for a physician.

SECOND.—INDUCE VOMITING, by tickling throat with feather or finger. Drink hot water or strong mustard and water. Swallow sweet oil or whites of eggs.

Acids are antidotes for alkalies, and vice versa.

ACIDS, MINERAL.—Chalk, magnesia (plaster off wall in emergency), solution carbonate of soda, emollient drinks, fixed oils.

ACID, CARBOLIC.—Any soluble sulphate, such as magnesia.

ACID, HYDROCYANIC.—Fresh air and artificial respiration, with cold effusion. Ammonia by inhalation and intravenously in vein of leg.

ACONITE.—Emetics, stimulants, external and internal; keep up external heat, keep flat on back.

ANTIMONY TART.—Vegetable acids, such as tannic acid, catechu.

ARSENIC.—Freshly precipitated hydrated sesquioxide of iron made by adding magnesia to any iron solution.

ATROPIA.—Same as Belladonna.

BELLADONNA.—Emetics—mustard flour in water; give physostigmine or pilocarpine; cold to head.

CANTHARIDES.—Emetics, emollient drinks, opiates by mouth and rectum, large draughts of water to flush kidneys.

CHLORINE WATER.—Albumen, white of egg, milk, flour.

CHLOROFORM.—Fresh air, artificial respiration (Inclining head down, pull tongue forward), brandy and ammonia intravenously in leg, the HYPODERMIC injection of 15 m. tincture of digitalis and 1-60 of a grain of atropine.

COLCHICUM.—Emetics, followed by demulcent drinks. If coma be present brandy, ammonia, coffee. Opium in large dose. Keep up external heat.

CONIUM.—Emetics, followed by stimulants external and internal.

CORROSIVE SUBLIMATE.—Albumen, white of egg (4 gr. sublimate require white of one egg), flour, milk. Equal parts of lime water and milk. Emetics, or evacuate stomach by pump.

Poisons and Antidotes

COPPER SULPH.—Yellow prussiate of potash or soap.

CROTON OIL.—Emetics; wash out stomach, followed by mucilaginous fluids, containing opium.

DIGITALIS.—Recumbent posture after emetics. Emetics and opium; give tincture aquaite.

ELATERIUM.—Demulcent drinks, enemata of opium, and external heat.

HYOSCYAMUS.—Stomach pump, emetics, stimulants external and internal, phystostigma and pilocarpine.

ILLUMINATING GAS.—Hypodermic injections of nitro-glycerine are recommended by Kloman, of Baltimore.

IODINE.—Emetics and demulcent drinks, starch or flour dissolved in water, opium and external heat.

LEAD SALTS.—Any soluble sulphate, either magnesia or soda succeeded by emetics, and afterwards by opium and milk.

LOBELLA.—Stimulants externally and internally; external heat.

MORPHINE.—Same as opium.

NUX VOMICA.—30 grs. of chloral and 60 grs. of bromide of potash. Nitrite of amyl.

OPIUM.—Atropine hypodermically till respirations number 8 per minute. Stomach pump, stimulants, external and internal, brandy and coffee, cold effusion, ammonia to nostrils, galvanic shock, compelling to move about, artificial respiration, electric brush. Permanganate of Potash.

OXALIC ACID.—Lime, not potash or soda.

PHOSPHORUS.—Sulphate of copper in emetic dose as chemical antidote. No oils. Emetics and purgatives.

POTASH AND SODA SALTS.—Dilute acetic acid, citric acid, lemon juice, fixed oils, demulcents, vinegar.

SILVER NITRATE.—Solution of common salt and demulcent drinks. Emetics.

STRAMONIUM.—Same as Belladonna.

STRYCHNINE.—Same as Nux Vomica.

TOBACCO.—Emetic, stimulants, external and internal, strychnine, external heat.

ZINC SALTS.—Carbonate of soda, emetics, warm demulcent drinks.

Roberson-Chamberlain.

Miss Mary Paxton Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Holmes Chamberlain of Warrenton, Va., was married to William Carter Roberson of this city, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Cleveland Roberson, yesterday afternoon in the chantry of Grace Church. Only members of the two families and a few close friends were present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. W. Russell Bowie, the rector.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an afternoon costume of blue crêpe trimmed with white fur, and a hat to correspond. She wore a corsage of white orchids. There were no attendants.

The ceremony was followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Foxhall P. Keene-Taylor, 345 East Sixty-eighth Street.

After their wedding trip, Mr. Roberson and his bride will live in New York. He is the brother of Mrs. Heyward Cutting.

HAROLD GODWIN, PUBLISHER, DEAD

'Current Literature' and 'Short Stories' Owner-Editor Formerly Post Art Critic

GRANDSON OF BRYANT

Harold Godwin, seventy-one, for many years an art critic of the NEW YORK EVENING POST and later owner and editor of two magazines, Current Literature and Short Stories, is dead at his home in Bryant Avenue, Roslyn, L. I.

Mr. Godwin was the grandson of William Cullen Bryant, famous as a poet and as editor-in-chief for many years of the Post. His father was Parke Godwin, who was also with the EVENING POST for many years and was an editor of Putnam's magazine and a prominent author.

Harold Godwin was born in Roslyn and was graduated from Princeton in 1879, obtaining a fellowship in history. Before entering newspaper work he studied sculpture under Saint-Gaudens and was admitted to the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. He had also been secretary and treasurer of the Bryant Building Company, and had served as art critic with the Mail and Express and the Commercial Advertiser.

Mr. Godwin married Elizabeth Love Marquand in 1884 in England. Surviving are a son, Frederick Marquand Godwin, and two daughters, Miss Frances Bryant Godwin and Miss Elizabeth Love Godwin. His clubs included the Century, University, Garden City Golf and Automobile of America.

He had a winter home at Aiken, S. C.

Mr. Godwin's death was attributed to a heart attack.

Funeral services will be held at Cedar-mere, the Bryant homestead at Roslyn, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with burial in the Bryant plot in Roslyn Cemetery. The Rev. Harry Rice, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Roslyn, will officiate.

C. W. GOULD IS DEAD IN CALIFORNIA HOME

Retired Lawyer and Trustee of Art Museum Here Was
'81 Years Old.

LED IN EDUCATIONAL WORK

He Introduced Intelligence Tests at
Cooper Union—Conducted Relief
Work in Cuba After the War.

Charles W. Gould, honorary trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, a trustee of Cooper Union, author and retired lawyer, died late Wednesday night at his California residence in Santa Barbara at the age of 81.

Mr. Gould was born in New York City on Aug. 19, 1849, of New England ancestry, having been related to the Saltonstall and Winthrop families. He attended public school in New York City and, for a time, the Free Academy, as it was then called, now the College of the City of New York. He was graduated from Yale in 1870 and after studying at the New York Law School was admitted to practice in 1872. Mr. Gould later founded the firm of Gould & Wilkie, 2 Wall Street, which still bears his name, although he retired in 1916.

At the close of the Spanish-American War Mr. Gould was appointed by President McKinley counsel for the commission to arrange the details of the evacuation of Cuba. After spending several months in Cuba Mr. Gould went to Washington to report on his work. President McKinley then requested Mr. Gould to return to Cuba to take charge of the distribution of food to the starving reconcentrados. Relief work on a vast scale was carried out under Mr. Gould's direction. Temporary aid was given to a large number of the outcasts and within six months more than 80,000 of them were returned to their devastated farms and agriculture in Cuba was re-established.

Throughout his life Mr. Gould was deeply interested in art. For many years he was trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and was elected a few years ago an honorary trustee. He was deeply interested also in the educational problems of Cooper Union.

On accepting his resignation in 1916, the trustees of Cooper Union credited Mr. Gould with the introduction of intelligence tests in measuring the qualifications of applicants for admission to the technical courses, which had enabled the board to select students who were really fitted for the work. The trustees also praised Mr. Gould's aid in increasing the union's collection devoted to the decorative arts.

After his retirement from practice in 1916, Mr. Gould wrote "America, a Family Matter," a study of racial problems in the United States that emphasized the importance of Nordic supremacy, and "Mental Tests and History."

The New York residence of Mr. Gould was 5 Washington Square. Among his clubs were the University, Tuxedo, Yale and Down Town Association. He was married in 1881 to Louise Adele Dickerson of this city, who died in 1883. Services for Mr. Gould will be held tomorrow in Santa Barbara.

Elisabeth Ely to Wed
William Shedd April 10

THE marriage of Miss Elisabeth Hotchkiss Ely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Ely of Greenwich, Conn., to Mr. William Greenough Thayer Shedd, son of Mr. John M. Shedd of this city, will take place at the home of the bride's parents on Friday, April 10. The ceremony is to be a very simple one, attended only by members of the family and a few close friends.

Miss Ely's two sisters, the Misses Jane Tobin Ely and Gertrude Brandes Ely, will serve as her two attendants, and Mr. Charles Minot Dole of this city will be best man for Mr. Shedd.

The bride attended Miss Porter's School at Farmington, Conn., and made her debut in the season of 1927-28 in this city. She is a member of the Junior League. She is a granddaughter of the late Mr. Henry L. Hotchkiss of New Haven, Conn., and of Mr. Theodore N. Ely of Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Mr. Shedd was graduated from the Hotchkiss School and from Yale University in the class of 1918. He served as an officer in the Field Artillery in the World War. He is a member of the Union and Yale Clubs of this city.

PAUL GROUT DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Law Partner and Brother of Former Controller E. M. Grout
Stricken at Age of 64.

ONCE LIEUTENANT COLONEL

Member of New York Bar for 40
Years and of Brooklyn Public
Library Board for 20.

Special to The New York Times.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., Aug. 17.—Colonel Paul Grout, well known New York lawyer, partner of his brother, former City Controller Edward M. Grout, with offices at 115 Broadway, died suddenly of a heart attack at 2 A. M. today in the Hotel Huntington here, where he and his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Harrison, were staying. His age was 64.

Mr. Grout had come from his home at 150 Willow Street, Brooklyn, yesterday to spend the day here. He visited his Summer home at Asharoken Beach and had luncheon at the country quarters of the Crescent Athletic Club.

He became ill an hour before he died. Dr. G. Herbert Carter was called.

Mr. Grout had spent his Summers at Asharoken Beach for many years, his home being one of the first built there. His wife died last Winter, and he did not open his home this season. He recently returned from a vacation in Canada, and told friends at Asharoken Beach yesterday that he had not felt so well in a long time.

Mr. Grout was deeply interested in civic affairs of Asharoken, serving for several years as village attorney. He fought against the encroachments of the sand and gravel interests. When the village brought suit against the Metropolitan Sand and Gravel Company last year to curb its operations at Asharoken Beach he represented the village. Decision has not yet been given.

Besides his daughter, a son, Marshall Grout, who is a Captain in the 101st Cavalry of Brooklyn, survives. Captain Grout, who is a member of the regiment's polo team, left several days ago for New Hampshire to play in exhibition games.

Mr. Grout was born in New York City on Dec. 20, 1866. He attended schools here and Colgate University and was a practicing attorney for forty years. He had been a member of the Public Library Board of Brooklyn for twenty years.

He was one of the organizers of Troop C in Brooklyn and rose to be Lieutenant Colonel.

Funeral services will be held at the Fairchild Chapel, 86 Lefferts Place, Brooklyn, tomorrow at 2 P. M.

WHY ENGLAND DROPPED GOLD

Its Outgoing Payments Are More Than Incoming.

SO IT SUSPENDS STANDARD

Hard Hit by Trade Balances and Heavy Withdrawals of Metal.

Great Britain temporarily has dropped the burden of her pre-war gold standard taken up in 1925, only after heroic efforts to bear its great weight, says the Associated Press.

England alone of the war stricken European nations had the courage to assay such a task. France, for instance, finally valorized her currency at roughly one-fifth of its pre-war value.

An important school of economic thought feels that the policy pursued by France and other nations was the better way, and that Great Britain might be better off if she had never struggled back to the pre-war gold basis as she did in 1925, after slipping off in 1914.

Of course, leading British bankers felt after the war was over, Great Britain must make every move to maintain her enviable credit standing which for generations had made her the world's principal banker.

Under the gold standard, the yellow metal is the final basis of settlement of international payments. When a nation's payments abroad exceed payments to it from foreign countries, it must be prepared to settle this outgoing excess of payments with the metal.

How It Works Out.

If its outgoing payments so exceed the incoming payments that it can no longer pay in gold, it has to abandon the gold standard. This, in substance, has now happened again to England, as it did to all the major Powers with the exception of the United States during the world war.

Settlement by gold works roughly in this way: Great Britain, say, is buying more dollars and francs to settle outgoing payments to France and America than those countries are buying sterling to settle payments going to Great Britain.

This creates in the foreign exchange market a surplus of sterling and a scarcity of dollars and francs. The market price of sterling then goes somewhat below the value of the fixed amount of gold at which it is redeemable.

It therefore becomes profitable to take British pounds bought in the open market at somewhat less than their gold redemption value, and redeem them at the Bank of England to their full value in gold, so that gold is actually taken out of England to settle the balance of payments.

Since the balance of payments became severely adverse to England, as result of the crisis starting in Vienna and spreading quickly to Germany in June, there has been a steady demand for her gold. She has been able to check gold payments to a considerable extent by supporting the open market price of her own currency with the $650,000,000 Franco-American credits obtained in August.

Close Balance Necessary.

In recent weeks, however, unsettlement in such countries as Holland, Sweden and Switzerland, as well as Latin America, has resulted in large withdrawals of funds which they have normally kept on deposit in London, and the Franco-American credit became so near exhausted that Eng-steady demand for her gold. She has been able to check gold payments to a considerable extent by supporting the open market price of her own currency with the $650,000,000 Franco-American credits obtained in August.

Close Balance Necessary.

In recent weeks, however, unsettled in such countries as Holland, Sweden and Switzerland, as well as Latin America, has resulted in large withdrawals of funds which they have normally kept on deposit in London, and the Franco-American credit became so near exhausted that England decided virtually to abandon support of sterling, and to cease settlements by gold.

Successful working of the gold standard calls for a reasonably close balance of payments between the leading countries, and in more or less settled times has worked satisfactorily. The world war, however, completely disrupted the normal interflow of funds. The leading Powers struggled for years back to the gold basis after the war, Japan finally resuming gold payments in 1930.

Nevertheless, the post-war flow of funds has remained erratic. France sent much of her money to London and New York during the war, and when she took it back drew a large flow of gold, building up France's gold stocks to more than $2,000,000,000. The flow of payments to the United States has built up her gold to more than $5,000,000,000. Great Britain now has only $650,000,000, and Germany little more than half that.

In the 1890s, the United States clung to the gold standard only by the skin of its teeth. At one time funds secured abroad by J. P. Morgan & Co. and August Belmont & Co. came in the nick of time to prevent the Treasury from suspending gold payments.
